

Pitchboard

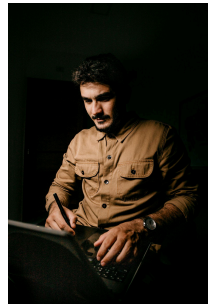

Portfolio where I can show off my game work and my design work can be shown off.

How I want the portfolio to be structured is to show my games and with that what part I took in those games so I want there to be a picture of the game or work and they can click on it it will open up a page which gives all the information I need to give.

Game Designer

Rick Male 35

Works in the field and wants to start a project and is looking for people to hire. Here to look for partners. they would be looking at my projects to see if i can do what he is needing and contact if I fit what he needs. Looking for a team and is passionate.

Game studio staffer

Heather Female 50

Big studio exec looking for staff for a new project. Has some experience in the field and knows what benchmarks she is looking for. Use the website to see if I have work that fits the needs and if it is the quality the studio is looking for then contact me to offer a job. Professional wants info quickly and in detail

Highschool senior

Jeremy Male 18

Just graduated and am thinking about game design. No experience here to learn and ask questions. They would look to see if they like it, maybe reach out and ask questions. Here to see if they like and want to be a game designer.
